2. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is the middle risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment. The product is collateralised against a bankruptcy of the issuer.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next five years, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest 10,000 EUR. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with scenarios of other products.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product.

The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

3. What happens if iMaps ETI AG is not able to pay you?

You are exposed to the risk that the Issuer might be unable to fulfil its obligations in respect of the product – e.g., in the event of insolvency (inability to pay / over-indebtedness). However, the issuer has pledged assets to collateralise the claims of investors in case of an insolvency. The issuer is free to use the issuance amount in its sole discretion and in particular is not obliged to acquire the underlying or its components as a hedge. This can increase the risk of bankruptcy. A total loss of your capital invested is possible. The product is not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

4. What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off and ongoing costs.

The person who sells you this product or advises you, or the bank or broker through which you purchase the product, may charge you additional costs. These can be transaction costs as well as ongoing custody fees. Such additional costs charged by third parties are not included in this total cost disclosure.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. The figures assume you invest 10,000 EUR. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.
